

Macron, Putin among world leaders to greet India on its Independence Day

PTI, MOSCOW / PARIS: Leaders from across the world, including French President Emmanuel Macron, his Russian counterpart Vladimir Putin and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, greeted India's leadership and the people of the country as it celebrated its 78th Independence Day on Thursday.

While most of the leaders from the South Asian neighbouring countries invoked enduring friendship rooted in history and strengthening of bilateral relations when they greeted their counterparts, presidents and prime ministers from other regions spoke about strategic ties and regional ethos.

French President Macron, in his message on X, said he remembers the warm welcome during his visit to India in January and that he is looking forward to "working with my friend @NarendraModi on achieving the ambitious goals we have set for our strategic partnership."

Russian President Putin sent a message of greetings to President Droupadi Murmu and Prime Minister Narendra Modi on the occasion of India's Independence Day. "We attach great importance to the relations of a particularly privileged strategic partnership with India. I am confident that the consistent implementation of the agreements reached following our recent talks in Moscow will contribute to the further development of multifaceted Russian-Indian cooperation," Putin said in a statement.

According to the Russian president, this undoubtedly meets the interests of the friendly peoples of the two countries and is in line with the consolidation of security and international stability.

Russia's Ministry of Foreign Affairs posted on X: "India enjoys well-deserved authority in the world arena, playing a major constructive role in international affairs. We cordially congratulate our Indian friends on Independence Day!"

Posting a picture of herself and Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Italian Premier Giorgia Meloni said on X: "On the occasion of the 78th Independence Day, I would like to express my heartfelt wishes to the people of India, and especially to the many Indians who follow this page. Italy and India share an ever-stronger bond, and I am confident that together we will achieve great things. Our strategic partnership is an important pillar for the future."

Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu in a post on X said, "On behalf of the State of Israel, I extend heartfelt congratulations to @narendramodi and the people of India on your 78th Independence Day! "May our close relations flourish and bring prosperity to both our nations," he added.

"As India marks its 78th Independence Day today, I extend heartfelt wishes to my dear friend @DrSJAishankar and the people of India," Katz wrote on X.

"Israel stands with you in celebrating this special occasion, valuing the strength, diversity, and unity of this great nation", the Israeli Foreign Minister emphasised, writing the same message in Hindi as well.

David Lammy, UK's Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Commonwealth, congratulated "the people of India and Indians around the world on the 77th anniversary of independence" and said on X: "In Delhi, I saw the strength of the UK-India living bridge. Together we will boost investment, create jobs and address future challenges together in the years ahead."
