FDA raids sweet stalls, manufacturing units in Mormugao, destroy 90 kgs of barfi

Team Herald

MARGAO: In view of the festive season of Ganesh Chaturthi, the Food and Drugs Administration (FDA) team conducted an enforcement drive in Mormugao Taluka recently and raided sweets. The operation focused on ensuring food safety and proper labeling of sweet products commonly consumed during the festival.

During the raid, the FDA team inspected five manufacturing units in the area. The inspection revealed significant violations in food safety standards and labelling practices. As a result, 90 kgs of barfi was destroyed due to improper labelling and unhygienic storage conditions. The food business operator willingly carried out the destruction under the supervision of the FDA officials.

As part of their comprehensive approach to food safety monitoring, the team collected 10 surveillance samples and 2 enforcement samples for further analysis. This sampling process will help the FDA to conduct more detailed examinations of the food products and ensure compliance with safety standards.

The enforcement drive extended beyond manufacturing units to retail outlets. Sweetmart shops across Vasco city were thoroughly checked for proper manufacturing date labeling, a crucial aspect of food safety, especially during festive seasons when sweet consumption increases significantly.

The operation was carried out by a team of FDA officials, including Sanjyot Kudalkar, the Designated Officer, who led the drive. She was accompanied by Shailesh Shenvi, Senior Food Safety Officer, along with Food Safety Officers Ankita Palyekar and Atmaram Naik. Their collective expertise ensured a thorough and effective enforcement operation. These measures aim to ensure the safety and quality of festive foods during the Ganesh Chaturthi celebrations.
