The 67th Grammy Awards was held at the Crypto.com Arena in Los Angeles. For the fifth consecutive year, Trevor Noah hosted the show and kicked off the ceremony with a moment of reflection for last month's historic wildfires that devastated Los Angeles, and called it an amazing city that brought in more to the world of music.

COWBOY CARTER IS LUCKY FOR BEYONCÉ

Beyoncé took home the Grammy Award for album of the year for 'Cowboy Carter'. The award was presented to Beyoncé with her daughter Blue Ivy Carter on stage, by members of the Los Angeles County Fire Department.

Chandrika Tandon

INDIAN-ORIGIN CHANDRIKA TANDON WINS GRAMMY FOR TRIVENI

Indian-American singer and entrepreneur Chandrika Tandon won the Grammy for her album 'Triveni' in the Best New Age, Ambient, or Chant Album category, beating out competitors including Indians like Ricky Kej and Anoushka Shankar. Chandrika shared the honour with her collaborators - South African flautist Wouter Kellerman and Japanese cellist Eru Matsumoto. Chandrika is a two-time Grammy-nominated musical artist.

Kendrick Lamar

KENDRICK LAMAR WINS BIG

Kendrick Lamar snagged both record of the year and song of the year for his song 'Not Like Us'. He offered advice to up-and-coming artists, saying, "To the young artists ... I just hope you respect the art form." He was nominated for five awards.

RAISING THEIR VOICE AGAINST MIGRATION AND HEALTH CARE

Chappell Roan accepted the trophy for Best New Artist at the 2025 Grammys. She used her speech to demand that labels offer "a livable wage and healthcare, especially to developing artists.... Labels, we got you, but do you got us?" Shakira won Best Latin Pop Album for 'Las Mujeres Ya No Lloran' and received it from another Latina superstar, Jennifer Lopez. She dedicated her award to her immigrant brothers and sisters. "To all my immigrant brothers and sisters in this country. You are loved. You are worth it and I will always fight with you," said Shakira in her acceptance speech.

BLACK, SHEER AND DRAMATIC: THE GRAMMYS RED CARPET

The red carpet of the 2025 Grammy awards at Crypto.com Arena in Los Angeles came alive with an all-black trend leading the way with the most celebrated musicians and singers

TROYE SIVAN'S look by Prada was crafted in sheer silk organza in varying hues of lavender and lilac. He accessorised it with a glinting diamond brooch.

First-time Grammy nominee BENSON BOONE showed off some skin in a loosely buttoned gray Dolce & Gabbana suit, which he paired with aviator sunglasses, an Omega watch, and David Yurman jewelry

LADY GAGA wore a black ball gown by Samuel Lewis, complete with a leather bodice featuring a high neck and puffy sleeves. The dress extended down into an asymmetrical draped skirt. She added a vintage Tiffany & Co. necklace: a gold chain with a glowing green amulet.

MILEY CYRUS showed up wearing a gorgeous slick black leather gown by Saint Laurent, which she paired with a new hairstyle.
