Bison spotted roaming in broad daylight, Dhavalim locals panic

Want Forest Department to urgently initiate action

Team Herald

PONDA: Bison roaming freely has become a common sight for the residents of Ponda taluka. And Monday was no different, as panic struck Dhavalim-Kavlem residents as they spotted the wild animal roaming freely along the main road near a school that too in broad daylight.

It may be recalled that a few days ago a bison was found roaming in Ponda town on two occasions at night.

After noticing the bison frequenting their residential area in the afternoon that too near a school and bank, the residents of Dhavalim panicked. Reacting to the issue, the Kavlem Panchayat official said that the local body will write to the Forest Department to adopt safety measures.

There have been recent instances wherein wild animals.

Devraj Upadye, a local, demanded that the Forest Department urgently initiate action into the matter.

Another local feared that there is school located nearby and the wild animal the panchayat to immediately inform the Forest Department to adopt safety measures."

The locals said that the bison should be driven into the deep forest as these animals are spotted on the main road with some even suggesting adequate provision of water for these animals along the forest border to prevent them from straying into the village and town area.

Kavlem Panchayat secretary Mayur Gaonkar said, "The Panchayat will inform the Forest department regarding the movement of bison in residential areas. A bison is learnt to have separated from a herd and is roaming freely in the village and the Forest Department should adopt safety measures."

Local panch member Satwashila said the bison was spotted in her area and this poses risk to children and locals as well. She said, "I had informed

Unsolved chain snatching incidents spark concerns in Salcete

Team Herald

MARGAO: A surge in chain-snatching incidents across South Goa, particularly in Salcete, has sparked concern among residents, especially senior citizens. In 2024, South Goa police registered eight cases of chain snatching, with only five detected so far, compared to ten cases and six detections in 2023.

The increase in chain snatchings has caused alarm, with many residents, particularly the elderly, becoming prime targets. In one incident, a senior woman had her gold chain worth Rs 90,000 snatched in broad daylight in Lavedebhat, Quepem, on September 22, 2024.

The rise in these crimes has been accompanied by common posing as police officers to steal cash and gold. In one case, two fake policemen convinced a senior citizen to hand over his gold, which was replaced with metal chains, and stole Rs 68,000 in cash.

Reports of chain-snatching continue in areas like Margao, Maina-Curtorim, and Fatorda, creating fear among women who are targeted while walking or wait-

CASE FILES - 2024

■ Avedem-Quepem: Two unknown men snatched a gold chain worth Rs 90,000 from Inacina Francisco Fernandes at around 10:45 am

■ Davorlim: Two unknown individuals engaged a 63-year-old woman in conversation outside her home before snatching her mangalsutra worth Rs 1.90 lakh

■ Aquem-Margao: A motorcycle rider snatched a woman's mangalsutra and other gold ornaments worth

Rs 1 lakh while she was walking along the road

■ Fatorda: Two common posing as police officers tricked 72-year-old Santosh Virdikar, stealing his gold ornaments worth Rs 2.5 lakh and Rs 68,000 in cash

■ Aquem-Margao: Two fake policemen also deceived Mira S Kamat and her sister-in-law, Pusha Deshpande, stealing two gold chains weighing 20 grams each, worth Rs 1.60 lakh

■ Cuncoilm: A scooterist

snatched gold ornaments worth lakhs of rupees in two separate incidents but remains unidentified

■ Assolna: A senior citizen was waylaid by a scooterist who snatched her gold chain and fled

■ Quepem: 74-year-old Bella Travasso was injured while foiling an attempt to snatch her gold chain

■ Fatorda: CCTV footage captured a motorcycle-borne thief snatching a chain from a woman riding a bike.

ing for public transport. While traditional snatchers on two-wheelers are still active, the trend of fake officers tricking victims has become a growing concern.

Local residents have called for more police presence, better street lighting, and increased surveillance to combat these crimes. Despite efforts, police have struggled to solve the cases, with only a small fraction of the incidents being detected.

In 2023, five chain-snatching incidents were reported in Salcete alone, and police suspect gang activity in the area, with thieves using diversion tactics to grab gold ornaments from unsuspecting victims. Despite continuous police patrols, chain snatchers remain elusive.

A senior police inspector revealed that investigations are ongoing, with officers exploring links between the cases due to similarities in the modus operandi.
