Team Herald

PANJIM: Sounding pessimistic on the survival of the age-old banyan tree at Vadakade, Porvorim, environmentalists said that the State just does not have the expertise to transplant or translocate huge trees, since all five transplanted trees are in a precarious state.

The inspection report will be submitted to the High Court during the next hearing fixed on February 20.

The five trees which are translocated in low-lying fields at Socorro are two each banyan trees and Alstonias Scholaris and one Pipal tree.

These trees were translocated by a third party Hyderabad-based Doctor Trees, and that immediate action was required in this regard.
