Rendered jobless, agitating teachers reject Mamata's appeal to withdraw agitation

PTI, KOLKATA: Unfazed by repeated appeals from West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee and Education Minister Bratya Basu to withdraw agitation and rejoin classes, agitating teachers, now rendered jobless by a Supreme Court verdict, announced on Tuesday they would continue with their indefinite sit-in before the state School Service Commission headquarters till their demand for publication of a list of tainted and untainted candidates is met.

Teaching and non-teaching staff, who lost their job following a court verdict, stage a sit-in protest outside West Bengal School Service Commission (WBSSC) office demanding their jobs back, in Kolkata

The decision of the protesting teachers, who braved the sultry Kolkata weather, lack of basic amenities like toilet and drinking water and continued their overnight siege to the SSC office while holding the commission top brass and staff gheraoed inside the building, came after a fresh round of talks between them and SSC Chairman Siddhartha Majumdar fell through.

The protesters, however, said they would allow food and medicines of the gheraoed officials and staff to reach their intended recipients inside Acharya Sadan, the SSC office.

In a similar demonstration, sacked non-teaching staff kept the streets outside the adjacent Derozio Bhavan, the office of the West Bengal Board of Secondary Education (WBSE), occupied and threatened to stay put till the demanded list was published.

Earlier in the day the education minister, while assuring that the state government stood firmly beside the teachers who lost their jobs, urged the protesters to refrain from doing anything that "might weaken the review petition" which the state was planning to file before the top court.

IAF officer booked for assault in Bengaluru road rage incident

PTI, BENGALURU: An FIR has been registered against a 40-year-old IAF officer on charges of attempt to murder, criminal intimidation and voluntarily causing hurt based on a counter-complaint by a call centre employee, who was previously arrested on the officer's complaint in a road rage incident, police said on Tuesday.

Indian Air Force Wing Commander Shiladitya Bose made an allegation in a video he shared that he was attacked and verbally abused by a group of Kannada-speaking individuals who chased him on a bike in Bengaluru early Monday morning. Terming it a case of road rage, police arrested Vikas Kumar, who works as a team head at a software company's call centre.

Both parties have attacked each other, and some videos purportedly show the IAF officer roughing up Vikas Kumar, creating a scene for the onlookers.

The officer was captured engaging in an argument with Kumar and beating him up in full public view, even as his wife tried to stop him.

Home Minister G Parameashwara said an FIR has been registered against the IAF officer based on the complaint by a call centre employee, but he has gone to West Bengal.

"A case has been taken. Investigation will be done, and he will be secured," he told reporters here.

Speaking to reporters, Bengaluru City Police Commissioner, B Dayanand said, "Police are investigating both the cases. We will come to a conclusion based on the eyewitness accounts, CCTV footage, and other materials."

"The initial information shows that it was an altercation between a bike rider and the officer. The details will be revealed after the investigation. Let us not jump into conclusions," he added.

The incident occurred while the officer was on his way to the airport with his wife, who is also an Indian Air Force (IAF) officer.
