

Gospel song 'Jezu Tunch Amcho Rai' to be released

"Jezu Tunch Amcho Rai" is a heartfelt tribute to Jesus Christ, the 'incomparable King of Kings,' says Fr Noel. "The song turned out to be a mind-blowing expression of faith," he adds, expressing gratitude to Alfin Fernandes for his exceptional work in mixing, mastering, and arranging the music. Alfin's live trumpet arrangements lend a majestic quality to the composition, which was composed by Fr Noel himself and recorded at Magic Masters Studio in Benaulim.

As AOC Musicals celebrates its 10th anniversary, the group marks this milestone with a soulful tribute in the form of a Konkani devotional song titled 'Jezu Tunch Amcho Rai'. Scheduled for release on the Second Sunday of Easter—also known as Mercy Sunday—the song is described as a "priceless gift" to the group, according to Fr Noel Menezes, spiritual director of AOC Musicals.

(secretary), and Fr Noel Menezes (spiritual director), the trio brought together a vision rooted in faith and inclusivity. As Fr Noel explains, "The abbreviation AOC which was suggested by Anthony Gomes, was chosen to reflect their desire to collaborate broadly within the Christian community."

Despite personal obligations and the challenges of everyday life, the group has remained active, driven by sheer passion and spiritual purpose. Over the years, they've organized numerous gospel shows, musicals, and choirs across Goa, each project infused with their deep-rooted devotion.

journey. I simply want to credit God, who brought us all together for this," says Fr Noel.

The accompanying music video was filmed at the iconic Miraculous Cross, a popular pilgrimage site that draws people of all faiths and backgrounds. The location, with its 320 steps and the 14 Stations of the Cross, leads to a 20-foot-tall image of the crucified Christ atop the hill, offering breath-taking panoramic views and a tranquil atmosphere for reflection.

Additional scenes were filmed at St Michael's Church in Anjuna. The cinematography is by Roque Monteiro, with assistance from Cyprian Pereira and Sophia Monteiro. The project was brought to life at Monteiro Photo Art Studio in Guirim.

The video also features a group of young people and parishioners reverently honouring Christ the King, further capturing the spirit of faith and community that lies at the heart of AOC Musicals' mission.

When 'Question Mark' wins an award

The All India Marathi Publishers Association recently announced Kishor Arjun as the recipient of this year's Author-Publisher Award for his Marathi translation of the acclaimed Konkani play 'Question Mark'. The award also recognises Sahit, the publishing house behind the release. This year, over 630 books from across the country were submitted for consideration in various categories.

Originally written in Konkani by young playwright Gautam Gaude, Question Mark is an experimental theatre piece that has garnered critical acclaim in both the Konkani and Marathi State Drama Competitions in Goa, winning multiple awards. Kishor Arjun's Marathi translation, along with its publication through Sahit, has now earned national recognition for its literary and cultural contribution.

Kishor Arjun is a writer, journalist, translator, publisher, screenwriter, and director, with a growing body of work spanning multiple languages. This award marks his first national recognition for translation, adding to his previous accolades for cover design and book production.

The winners were selected by a distinguished jury comprising Vinayak Ranade (Kusumagraj Pratishthan, Nashik), Vasudha Kulkarni (renowned Artist), and Nandprasad Barve (eminent printer). The awards ceremony will be held in Pune at a special event organized by the Publishers Association in the coming weeks.

Kishor Arjun says, "The All India Marathi Publishers Association is the apex body for Marathi publishers across India. For a translated work from Goa's experimental theatre scene to be honored by such an organization is a proud moment for all of us. Konkani literature has a rich legacy, and through Sahit, we're committed to bringing its finest works to a wider audience through translation. This recognition has deeply encouraged me as a writer, translator, and publisher."

WHAT IS 'QUESTION MARK'?

Question Mark, an experimental play originally written in Konkani, has been drawing attention in the regional theatre world for its bold story and sensitive take on mental health. The play was written, directed, and performed by Gautam Gaude, and was first staged at the Konkani Drama Competition organized by the Goa Kala Academy. Kishor Arjun translated it into Marathi and also published both the Marathi and original Konkani versions. The Marathi version kept the emotional depth and connected well with audiences across language lines.

The story follows a group of college students working on a project together. As things progress, they find out that one of them has schizophrenia. The play gently explores the changes in this character, how the others around him respond, and how it makes everyone think differently. 'Question Mark' was performed at the State Drama Competition in both languages and received several awards, including writing.
