Goa's iconic play, 'Ganv Zala Zantto' is aiming to set a world record by staging seven performances in a single day on May 18. Centered on the Mhadei river and the broader challenges faced by Goa, the play is both socially impactful and emotionally compelling. All seven performances will be held at the Rajiv Gandhi Kala Mandir in Ponda. The production has already captivated audiences and has been staged over 182 times across Goa, Maharashtra, and even the United Kingdom.

Each performance runs for two hours, starting with the first show from 7:30 am to 9:30 am. A 30-minute break will follow each performance, continuing in this pattern until the final show begins at 10:30 pm and ends at 12:30 am. The cast has been preparing rigorously—not only through rehearsals but also physically. Performing seven times in a day is a significant challenge, and the actors are taking comprehensive steps to be ready.

Sailee Kudtarkar, an event partner for the production, shared that the cast is following strict diets and has even brought in a dietician to support them through the process.

Lead actor Rajdeep Naik, who plays the role of Jalesh, said preparations are going smoothly. "We've done 182 shows all over the world, including in London and Mumbai. Each show must run exactly two hours—any overtime could cost us at the end," he explained. "By the way, my five-year-old daughter, Bhume Naik Narvekar, will appear in five of the performances that day. She has already been part of 170 shows and is ready for the challenge," he added.

When asked about the difficulty of drawing a crowd for the 7:30 am show, Sailee noted that the Konkani-language play has generated substantial interest. Bookings are already underway. Since the event falls on a Sunday, many working individuals are expected to attend either the early morning show before heading to work or the late-night performance. While entry is free, the cast welcomes and appreciates donations. The venue has a seating capacity of 1,000, and organisers expect between 700 to 750 attendees per show based on the volume of inquiries received. Sailee also mentioned receiving several requests from London audiences hoping for a livestream of the performance so they can tune in from abroad.

Reflecting on the inspiration for the play, writer Suchita Narvekar shared that the story is not solely focused on the Mhadei River. It also touches on the increasing trend of people moving away from villages to cities, contributing to a gradual erosion of rural life. "People are leaving the villages," she said. "In the past, people settled in villages because of water availability. If the Mhadei is diverted, what will happen to those communities? That's why I chose to combine these two themes in the play."

Inauguration of the Holy Family Chapel at Margao

The Catholic community of Housing Board, Borda-Margao came together in faith and celebration for a truly historic and joyous occasion—the blessing and inauguration of the newly constructed Holy Family Chapel. This long-awaited milestone was marked by a solemn and spiritually uplifting ceremony.

His Excellency, Most Rev Simão Purificação Fernandes, Auxiliary Bishop of Goa and Daman, was warmly welcomed by the sound of a brass band as he arrived to lead the celebration. The Bishop unveiled a commemorative plaque and then presided over the Solemn Eucharistic Celebration, during which he blessed the chapel and offered words of encouragement and reflection.

The inauguration drew a large and enthusiastic gathering of parishioners, clergy, religious, and benefactors, all united in thanksgiving for this long-cherished dream becoming a reality.

During the ceremony, Fr Simon D'Cunha, chaplain of St Joaquim Chapel, extended heartfelt thanks and acknowledgments. Special mention was made of Fr Jovial Fernandes, whose tireless commitment and attention to every detail—from the construction to the interior furnishings—greatly contributed to the success of the project. Appreciation was also extended to Engineer Pascoal Noronha, whose expertise, supervision, and constant presence on-site ensured the construction proceeded smoothly and efficiently, and to Cipriano Desouza, president of the Holy Family Chapel, for his untiring support in coordinating various works, getting paperwork ready, and leading fundraising efforts.

Gratitude was also expressed to the generous donors, dedicated volunteers, and hardworking community members who contributed selflessly towards the chapel's completion.

Loliem parish feast celebrated

The parishioners of St Sebastian's Church, Loliem, celebrated the feast of their patron, St Sebastian, with devotion and solemnity. Fr Diogo Fernandes, chairman of Aninha Education Institute, São José de Areal, presided over the solemn feast Mass. Fr Victor Rodrigues, Fr Vency Fernandes and Fr Rui Pereira celebrated the Eucharistic celebration.

Delivering the homily on the theme, "Inspired by St Sebastian, fostering hope within communities through communal living," Fr Diogo called upon the faithful to emulate the virtues of St Sebastian and become signs of hope, especially in the Small Christian Communities (SCCs) and among the needy. Recalling the life of St Sebastian, he emphasised that the saint's deep faith strengthened Christian communities and helped them live lives rooted in hope. Fr Diogo also encouraged the faithful to live lives of communion, forgiveness, compassion, and concern for others, inspired by the early Christians.

The novena in preparation for the feast was based on themes from the Jubilee Year and was preached by various priests: Fr Theo Fernandes (chaplain, Our Lady of Fatima Chapel, Xellim), Fr Freddy Lobo (parish priest, St Francis Xavier Church, Bhatpal), Fr Ryan Fernandes (assistant parish priest, St Teresa's Church, Canacona), Fr Rui Pereira (parish priest), Fr Snyter Pereira (prefect, Patriarchal Seminary of Rachol), and Fr Joseph Correia (St Francis Xavier Church, Bhatpal).

Fr Joseph Correia presided over the first Mass on the feast day. The parish choir led the liturgical singing. Fr Rui Pereira expressed his sentiments of gratitude at the conclusion of the celebration. A tiatr, 'Aiz Mhaka Faleam Tuka' by Matias Mascarenhas was staged in the evening, adding a cultural touch to the day's festivities.
