Mini bus overturns at Verna; conductor killed, several hurt

Vehicle overloaded with industrial workers returning home from duty

Team Herald

VASCO: In a tragic accident, a conductor was killed and several passengers were injured when a mini bus travelling from Verna to Vasco overturned at the Queeny Nagar junction along the Verna highway on Thursday evening. The conductor, identified as Shiva Madar from Birla, died in the mishap, while several passengers sustained injuries. The mini bus was reportedly crowded, carrying mostly workers from the Verna Industrial Estate who were returning home. The conductor was unable to close the flap door as passengers were standing on the footboard.

Of the injured, 13 passengers are undergoing treatment at the Sub-District Hospital, Chicalim, while a few others were referred to the Primary Health Centre at Cansaulim and later discharged.

The accident caused a major traffic jam along the busy Verna highway, as locals and bystanders rushed to assist in rescuing the passengers and helping to get the overturned bus upright. Ambulances were deployed to shift the injured to nearby hospitals, while police arrived at the site to help clear the traffic after the bus was removed from the road.

The Goa Police issued a traffic advisory, asking motorists to use the Cortalim-Chicalim route to reach Vasco and the Dabolim Airport.

Locals who rushed to the site after hearing the screams of passengers blamed the government, particularly the RTO, for failing to ensure bus safety and risking the lives of passengers. "The RTO should be held responsible for allowing buses overloaded beyond capacity. Due to clashing timings and competition for passengers, drivers often drive recklessly, endangering lives," a local said.

Former Sancoale

They pose serious safety risks," he stated.

Injured passenger Sonam Namshikar, currently undergoing treatment at the Sub-District Hospital, Chicalim, said the bus was travelling at high speed. "I don't know how or why the driver suddenly turned the bus, causing it to overturn. We were standing near the door when he abruptly applied the brakes, and the next thing we knew, the bus had toppled near Queeny Nagar," she recalled.

Bus owner Feroz Agha stated that he had given the mini bus to a person named Rama to operate. "I don't even know who the driver was, as Rama was managing the bus. I was unaware of the accident until I began receiving calls from others. The roads are all dug up due to highway work, and drivers must also take care to ensure passenger safety," he said.

SP (Traffic) Prabodh Shirwaikar, who also rushed to the spot, informed that the ill-fated bus had been issued as many as 14 challans by the RTO and the Traffic Police Cell. "This is under district police investigation, but from a traffic point of view, we carry out enforcement on vehicles and will take the most stringent action against any vehicles that do not obey road discipline," he said.

Cortalim MLA Anton Vas, who also visited the site, stated that the mini bus was packed beyond capacity. He directed police to carry out a thorough enquiry and take appropriate action against the bus owner for endangering human lives.

Goa travel portal say no to Turkish nationals amid diplomatic row over Pak strikes

Team Herald

PANJIM: Indian travel businesses have begun taking unilateral action in response to Turkey's public support for Pakistan following India's military strikes in May 2025. Goa Villas, a well-known luxury holiday rental provider, has become the second Indian company—to announce it will no longer extend services to Turkish nationals.

Goa Villas issued a statement on social media platform X, citing Turkey's "non-cooperative stance in the current global scenario involving India and Pakistan" as the reason behind its decision and affirmed its solidarity with India.

Go Homestays, meanwhile, took a parallel step by severing its partnership with Turkish Airlines, announcing that the airline will no longer be included in any of their international travel packages. These developments follow India's military operation, codenamed 'Operation Sindoor', which targeted terror camps in Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK) in retaliation for a terrorist attack in Pahalgam that claimed the lives of 26 Indian citizens.

The travel sector's move is seen as a reaction to Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdoğan's remarks offering diplomatic backing to Pakistan in the aftermath of the strikes. Erdoğan praised Pakistan's "calm and restrained policies," prompting widespread anger among the Indian public.

While there is no official government directive banning Turkish nationals from entering India or using Indian services, a growing number of private companies are reportedly refusing to do business with Turkish citizens. This emerging pattern has raised legal and ethical concerns, with some questioning the legitimacy of such refusals in the absence of formal sanctions.

Indian social media has been flooded with calls to boycott Turkish companies and tourism, urging local businesses to distance themselves from Turkish interests. The situation has added to a broader wave of nationalism and tension in the region.

Though not Pakistan's primary arms supplier—China holds that distinction—Turkey has in recent years played a notable role in supplying weapons to Pakistan. The symbolic and material aspects of this support have become increasingly contentious amid heightened regional friction.

STATEMENT FROM MR. MUKESH D AMBANI, CHAIRMAN AND MANAGING DIRECTOR, RELIANCE INDUSTRIES LIMITED

We are very proud of our Indian Armed Forces for Operation Sindoor. India stands united, fierce in resolve and unshakable in purpose, against the scourge of all forms of terrorism. Under the bold and decisive leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the Indian Armed Forces have responded with precision and power to every provocation from across the border.

Prime Minister Modi's leadership has demonstrated that India will never remain silent in the face of terror and that we will not tolerate a single attack on our soil, on our civilians, or on the brave men and women who defend our nation. The last few days have shown that every threat to our peace will be met with firm and decisive action.

The Reliance family is ready to support any measure in protecting our nation's unity and integrity. We like our fellow Indians believe—India seeks peace, but not at the cost of its pride, security or sovereignty.

Together, we will stand. We will fight. And we will prevail.
