Russian strike kills five in Ukraine

AP, PRYLUKY (UKRAINE): At least five people, including a 1-year-old child, his mother and grandmother, were killed Thursday in a nighttime Russian drone attack on the northern Ukrainian city of Pryluky, officials said.

Six drones hit a residential area in the city shortly before dawn, injuring nine others, according to authorities. The child killed was the grandson of the local fire chief, Ukraine's Interior Minister Ihor Klymenko said.

The fire chief, identified by local officials as 50-year-old Oleksandr Lebid, "arrived to respond to the aftermath right at his own home," Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky said in a post on Telegram. "It turned out that a Shaded drone hit his house."

The attack came just hours after US President Donald Trump spoke by phone with Russian President Vladimir Putin. According to Trump, Putin said "very strongly" that Russia will retaliate for Ukraine's stunning drone attacks on Russian military airfields on Sunday.

US-led diplomatic efforts to stop the more than 3-year-long war have delivered no significant progress, and the grinding war of attrition has continued unabated.

The mother of the 1-year-old killed in Pryluky was a police officer called Daryna Shyhyda, Ukraine's National Police said.

"Today our hearts are scorched by pain," the police force wrote on Telegram. "This is not just a loss — it is three generations of life uprooted."

Liudmyla Horbunova, 55, who lives across the street from where the Shaded drone hit, said Shyhyda had moved with her son last weekend to her parents' house from her home in Kyiv because she was scared of potential Russian attacks on the capital.

"She ran away from Shaded in Kyiv, but they found her here, in Pryluky," Horbunova told The Associated Press.

Firefighters worked through charred debris and extinguished the remains of a fire that engulfed the home of Shyhyda's parents, leaving only a brick carcass and scattered toys, clothes and a family photo book.

Pryluky, which had a prewar population of around 50,000 people, lies about 100 km east of Kyiv, the capital. The city is far from the front line and does not contain any known military assets.
