

Smuggled booze laden container truck catches fire at Dhargal

Vehicle's cabin gets damaged; driver flees before authorities arrive

Team Herald

DHARGAL: A Nagaland-registered container truck laden with smuggled liquor suddenly caught fire early Tuesday morning while parked along the roadside at Dhargal on National Highway 66.

Alerted by passersby, personnel from the Pernem Fire and Emergency Services (FES) rushed to the site and successfully doused the blaze. Despite their efforts, the truck's cabin was damaged.

The driver reportedly fled the scene before the authorities arrived. Police and excise officials are investigating the ownership and legality of the liquor transported in the vehicle.

Speaking to mediapersons, a Fire and Emergency Services (FES) personnel said, "We received a call at around 7.45 am. We reached the spot within 10 minutes. We extinguished the fire and during the search, liquor bottles were found inside the vehicle. We immediately contacted police and excise officials."

Meanwhile, Pernem Congress leader Jitendra Gaonkar alleged that such illegal activities are going on, on a regular basis and blamed the chief minister for it and demanded a crackdown of such activities.

Last month, Goa excise officials unearthed a tax evasion scheme involving a Haryana-based liquor distribution company that attempted to smuggle premium liquor brands such as Chivas Regal, Absolut Vodka, Johnnie Walker, and Black Label into the State without paying over Rs 1 crore in duties.

The operation was intercepted at the Patradevi checkpoint, where a Haryana-registered truck, falsely claiming its consignment was for "Customs", was found carrying retail-sized bottles (mostly 750 ml and under) instead of the 1,000 ml packaging required for Customs shipments.

CM, EXCISE DEPT NOT SERIOUS ON LIQUOR SMUGGLING: CONGRESS

People have started questioning as to how can such things be smuggled in the State without blessings of the Chief Minister? Had the chief minister and the excise department been serious then this type of smuggling would have been stopped by now. But we have not seen any vehicle being caught by the excise department officials. So now it is becoming clear that if chief minister is not changed then incidents like this will keep happening

— Jitendra Gaonkar, Pernem Congress leader

AAP DEMANDS PROBE INTO LIQUOR SMUGGLING

The liquor bottles are being smuggled in and out of the State. It must be investigated how these liquor bottles are going out of the State. There is serious doubt over RTOs, police personnel posted at various check posts. Excise is a big scam. In fact it is one of the biggest excise scam in the country. It requires an investigation by ED and CBI. The excise department personnel are interesting in collecting Rs 10 or 20 at checks post but big sharks are left unchecked

Police crack down on tobacco sales near schools in South Goa

Shopkeepers warned against selling tobacco products within 100 yards of educational institutions; 1,474 COTPA cases booked in 2025 so far

Team Herald

MARGAO: Police stations across South Goa have been directed to visit shops selling tobacco products in their jurisdictions and strictly instruct them not to sell within a 100-yard radius of educational institutions. Sanguem PI Ditenra Naik confirmed that his beat staff have already begun informing local shopkeepers of this regulation.

This initiative comes under the enforcement of the Cigarettes and Other Tobacco Products Act (COTPA), 2003. The law prohibits the sale of tobacco near educational institutions and restricts smoking in public spaces, allowing it only in designated smoking areas at hotels, restaurants, airports, and select open areas.

City advocate Vinay Patker highlighted that the Act clearly prohibits smoking in places such as auditoriums, theatres, hospitals, public transport, restaurants, hotels, government and private offices, courts, markets, and educational institutions. "The person selling tobacco is required to verify that the buyer is not a minor, but such checks are rarely done. This negligence is making smoking increasingly common among under-age children," he said.

According to Patker, Section 6(b) of the Act specifically restricts tobacco sales within 100 yards of schools and colleges to discourage access by youth.

Police in South Goa have actively enforced COTPA, registering 1,474 cases until April 20, 2025. In 2024, a total of 5,480 cases were booked. The Vasco Railway Police recorded the highest number of violations this year with 194 cases, followed by Margao Police Station with 183 and Dabolim Airport with 170.

Retired teacher Michal Fernandes supported the initiative, noting that schools are doing their part by advising students on the dangers of tobacco. He also reiterated the law's stipulation under Section 6(a) and 6(b) of COTPA, which prohibits the sale of tobacco to and by minors, and within 100 yards of schools.

Milind Raiker, a concerned parent, stressed the need for sustained awareness campaigns to educate the public on the health hazards of tobacco. "Public Health is a State subject. It is the duty of authorities to ensure the effective implementation of COTPA," he said.

Another parent, Sandeep Pednekar, emphasised the role of families in preventing tobacco use. "Parents must communicate openly, educate children on the dangers of tobacco, and set a positive example," he said, adding that family influence can significantly shape children's attitudes toward tobacco.

Timely action averts major tragedy as fire breaks out in school bus

Team Herald

MARGAO: A major tragedy was narrowly averted on Monday morning after a minor fire broke out in a Balrath school bus near a secondary high school in Margao. Fire and Emergency Services were promptly alerted and swiftly brought the situation under control.

The incident occurred at approximately 11.30 am, shortly after the schoolchildren had been dropped off for the day. No one was inside the vehicle at the time and no injuries were reported.

"It was a scary experience," said one parent who happened to be passing by the roadside as the fire broke out.

According to Station Fire Officer (SFO) Gil Souza of Margao Fire Station, the fire was first noticed by a passing scooter rider while the driver was manoeuvring the bus. The rider quickly alerted the driver, who then took immediate precautionary measures. SFO Souza stated, "At around 11.35 am, we received an emergency call informing us that a fire had broken out in a school bus. Sub Officer R S Khutker, along with our team and one fire tender, rushed to the site. Fortunately, no one was inside the bus at the time, and no injuries were reported."

He added, "In the morning, school children had already been brought to school. The incident occurred afterwards. Locals and other passers-by rushed to the spot upon hearing the news."

The fire was determined to have started due to a short circuit in the electrical wiring connected to the bus battery. However, the timely response by fire personnel prevented the flames from reaching the engine or causing major damage to the bus.
